

Breast Cancer

Poly-MVA Cancer Patient Testimonials

Jill Saldana

Date: October 2018

Diagnosis: Breast Cancer

No
Picture
Available

1 Update

6-08-2020

They wanted to do double mastectomy, July 26, 2019 of last year. I was scared and wanted a 2nd opinion and at the very least ... another MRI. You can go from lumpectomy to mastectomy but not the reverse. So much fear arises inside you and then to learn that there are many cases that cancer can come back even with a mastectomy. But as of today, June 8 of 2020, I wanted to share my wonderful news with you.

I got my results from my thermogram yesterday and they look really good. I went back to the place that I had gotten them done in October of 2018 and they appeared to be stable to what was done at that time.

I showed the doctor my thermograms from back in January and she could not believe how bad it was then.

She said she would never have known that I even have cancer if I hadn't told her and shown her those thermograms from Jan. Praise God!!

The prayers and the poly are working!! I'm SO happy! I know this is just part of a long journey and I am thankful for Lynn Jones, Gary Matson, the staff at AMARC and of course the Poly-MVA.

Jill Saldana